To Whom It May Concern:

The Life Givers Network, a ministry of compassion and discipleship aimed at those facing life threatening illnesses, has been a tremendous blessing to Cornerstone Christian Church – and I think it will be a blessing to your church as well.

I have been watching the Life Givers Network for a while, and I have seen it blossom into a vital outreach for our church. We have always been able to pray and support those facing cancer or other serious illnesses; but, what are we to say to those who have received a devastating diagnosis? More importantly, how do we help them focus on what God is doing in their lives at that moment? As honest and caring as we might be, our comments often sound trite because we have not “been there.” Well, Jim Henry has been there. He has faced cancer as a father, husband and counselor, and he knows that people need help preparing to live, not preparing to die.

I have seen Jim Henry lead long-resistant people to Christ as they face serious illness, and through the Life Givers Network I have also seen him train others to do the same. It is a great ministry because it is more than counseling; it is community and discipleship. Now the Network is expanding and there are opportunities to help people through churches all over the northeast. Who knows where God may lead after that? I would encourage you to consider partnering with The Life Givers Network and find out how it might enhance your ministry to those facing life threatening illnesses.

If you have any questions about how the Life Givers Network works in our church, feel free to give me a call. May God richly bless you as you serve Him.

In Christ,

Rev. Fred F. Provencher
